

Art of Vermont: The State Collection

Art of Vermont: The State Collection is a touring show that was conceived by the State Curator's Office in partnership with the Vermont Arts Council. Funds to support sharing the 170-year-old collection with galleries and libraries throughout the state came from the National Endowment for the Arts' American Masterpieces Program. The tour has visited Jeffersonville, Newport, Bennington, Rutland, Morrisville, Colchester, Brattleboro, St. Johnsbury and Montpelier. Selected works from the show will be on display at the new Museum & Education Center at the President Calvin Coolidge State Historic Site in Plymouth Notch, Vermont from August 7 through October 17, 2010. For more information, call the Office of the State Curator at (802) 828-5657.
